SHOTGUN WOUND RESULTS FATAALLY

PHILIP VERRILL MIGHELS PASSES

Brilliant Young Author Succumbs as Result of Accidentally Self-Inflicted Wound

Hal Migheles received a telegram from Winnemucca last evening telling him to come at once as his brother, Phillip Verrill Migheles, who was recently shot while hunting quail had taken a change for the worse.

The telegram was brief and did not state particulars but it is presumed that he was getting along nicely and was in a serious condition. A letter was received from Winnemucca yesterday morning stating that Phil was getting along nicely and the word received last night was a surprise and caused a great deal of anxiety among the relatives of the sick man.

This morning Hal Migheles and mother, Mrs. Davis, fearing the worst, left here on the motor, hoping to make train connections and reach Winnemucca some time this afternoon. Shortly after their departure a telegram was received announcing that Phil Migheles had died some time during the night. They were intercepted at Franktown and apprised of the sad intelligence and proceeded to Reno where they will await the remains which will arrive there some time tonight, being brought to this city where the funeral will in all probability be held.

The entire circumstances surrounding the fatal accident and the death of Phillip Verrill Migheles are sad in the extreme. He had gone to the eastern part of the state to witness a cattle round-up in order to become perfectly familiar with the conditions to better enable him to portray the scenes in a novel which he was writing depicting the scenes of western life. While having a few moments of leisure time at his disposal he went quail shooting. He wounded a bird and in a moment of anxiety and excitement in endeavoring to capture it while it was fluttering to escape, he struck it with the stock of the gun which was exploded and which at the time seriously, and later proved fatal, wounded him. He was taken to the hospital at Winnemucca and has since received the most careful care and attention.

Up to last evening reports from his bedside were most encouraging and the attending physicians announced that he was getting along nicely and was out of danger. Unlooked-for complications set in, with the result that he rapidly grew worse and passed away almost at the time that he was considered out of all possible danger.

Phillip Verrill Migheles was born and reared to manhood in this city, was about 42 years of age and the second son of a family of four children. His mother, Mrs. Sam Davis, of this city, his wife, who was with him at the time of his death, two brothers and a sister, are immediate relatives left to mourn.

Hal Migheles of this city, Roy, now in California, Mrs. Bessie Lewis of San Diego, are his brothers and sister. Mrs. Ray Crowell and Miss Ethel Davis of this city, Robert Davis of New York, and Will Davis of Stockton, are half-sisters and half-brothers.

The summary passing of this young man is most shocking, not alone to his immediate relatives and friends, but as he was on the road almost to fame, having won a reputation as an author and writer of great merit, not a few of his literary productions having gained a national reputation as works of great excellence.

The many friends of the family sympathize with them in their bereavement over the loss of one who was honored, trusted and beloved.

Word received late this afternoon is to the effect that the remains will arrive in this city tomorrow morning. The funeral arrangements and announcement will be made later.

Woven Win in California

It was at first reported that the suffrage amendment had been hopelessly lost in the California election and even the ladies had given up and had already begun plans for its future adoption.

As the completed count is coming in it is now reported that the amendment has been won by a safe majority of 2,000. It is now more than probable that the women have won the day and will have the right to vote in one more state.

Suicides After Third Attempt

Wm. Blackledge, known about Goldfield as the city scavenger, took his own life shortly after noon today at his home, 510 South Columbia street, thus making a success of a third attempt to commit suicide.

The reason for the act is unknown, though it is asserted that unrequited affection for a woman other than his wife is the cause. There have been reports of marital difficulties for many months past, for which the deceased is said to have been responsible.

Little is known of the man's antecedents, but it is understood he was a native of England, coming to Nevada about seven years ago. Mrs. Blackledge is prostrated by the terrible occurrence and this afternoon was unable to give any connected statements of the affair.—Tribune.

STEREOPTICON LECTURE The Philippine Islands

The second of the series of stereopticon lectures on the "Work of the Church in Other Lands," will be given in St. Peter's Guild Hall on Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. The subject will be "The Philippine Islands." Admission, adults 10 cents, children 5 cents unless provided with tickets. Everyone who saw the first lecture enjoyed it. This one is better.

Artesian Well is Progressing

The state drilling rig at the Raycraft farm is making good headway. It was found necessary to abandon the first well attempted as the casing shifted, throwing the mole out of plumb. The new hole is down about ninety feet.

During the progress of the well water has been encountered in every strata. The first surface water was found at a depth of about 12 feet. Since that a number of water flows have been encountered and while it has not reached the surface yet shows a strong pressure and plenty of strata water. Some trouble has been encountered in quick sand, but since the men on the rig have learned how to handle the machine and take advantage of the power and machinery they are overcoming even the quick sand troubles. It is believed that in the next fifty feet the artesian water will be brought in and this will give a well on the highest point of the land. The casing in the new well is ten-inch, which should finish the best well drilled in this county. A number of prospective drillers are watching the efforts of the Raycraft farm and hope to see a spouter at that place within a few days.

Big special at the GRAND tonight, together with three other fine reels. Don't forget the place, Main street, just in front of the Postoffice.

Mrs. Inman Gets Divorce

The Salt Lake Tribune, in reporting the completion of the divorce action against Claude Inman, former constable at Goldfield, says:

Upon stipulation between the parties to the suit, a copy of which was filed with the court setting forth that property interests had been settled, an interlocutory decree of divorce was granted from Carrie A. Inman from Claude C. Inman at Judge C. W. Morse's divorce matinee yesterday afternoon.

By the terms of the stipulation the plaintiff is to receive $80 attorney's fees, $80 a month for the support of the minor children until they become of age, and is to receive $5,000 from the mining property of the defendant, the amount to be paid in two installments. Mrs. Inman accused her husband of non-support, and named a Southern Oregon woman as co-respondent in the case.

VISITING RENO

Railroad Commissioner Shaughnessy and wife are visiting friends in Reno.

A HEAVY PAY DAY

Tuesday was pay day in the Goldfield Consolidated mines and mill, and approximately $80,000 was distributed to the 675 men employed in the mines and mill. The pay roll of other mines throughout the district make a grand total of about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. This will in the future be augmented by the pay roll of the Merger Miens Co. being added to the pay roll of the mines.

WINGFIELD WANTS IN

There is good authority that Geo. Wingfield, president of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines Co., and leading mining magnate of Nevada, will be elected to the board of directors of the Tonopah Belmont Co., at the next meeting.

Much Work State Office

One of the busiest offices in the State building is the State Engineer. Work has piled up good and deep and it is keeping the entire force on the hustle to keep the decks cleaned. It became necessary to place a mechanical draughtsman to work, and Mr. Herman Hulle, who was formerly employed at the office, was brought down from Virginia City and placed on the plan table, where he is busy with all kinds of work in this line.

This is one of the offices that is about self-sustaining, as the applications for water rights and all such work calls for a fee which about runs the office. Since the establishment of the State Engineer's office a great amount of surveying, adjusting and measuring of water has gone into effect, while many a dispute between water owners and impending litigation has been settled outside the courts.

While there is a world of work left that is to be performed in this office the efforts of the good work can be judged by picking up nearly any state exchange and note the publication for either water rights or some such state endorsement.

Fine and Funny Show To-night

The play to be presented this evening by Harry Corson Clark comes under the recommendation of plain clean humor, with the rough edges trimmed off. The papers throughout the coast endorse it as a comedy filled with wit, comical situations and clever people to handle the fun-making. This is what Mr. Clark contends for his play "His Absent Boy."

The Salt Lake theater people approved this play and wish Mr. Clark success all along the road. He made good to the Reno people and to every audience he has appeared before with the entire troupe.

Possibly no piece yet produced contains so many really funny situations, or so much to rouse the laughter of the audience. Sydney Rosenfeld, experienced maker of comedies as he is, has excelled himself in this play which goes with laughter all the time and yet contains no risqué situation or vulgar dialogue. As the hen-pecked husband Mr. Clark is simply supreme and he plays the part for all it is worth, getting every ounce of fun out of it. You should make a point of being present when he presents the play here this evening.

FILE EXCEPTIONS

Salter & Robbins, attorneys of Winnemucca, have filed a bill of exceptions and specifications in the appeal of Nimrod Urie, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Quilliey at Imlay last winter, and sentenced to be hanged. Urie was granted a stay of execution in order that he might perfect his appeal to the Supreme Court. Transer, Urie's accomplice, secured a change of venue to Washoe County where he was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

THE CHORUS RELEASED

The "squabs"—pardon us, the chorus ladies, left straddled here by the Minto Comedy Company manager, left town this morning after a strenuous day yesterday. Their time was well utilized, however, as between pawning jewelry and telegraphing to friends for assistance, all managed to have the "necessary" with which to purchase a ticket back to Reno.—Goldfield Tribune.

ENCOURAGING OUTLOOK FOR OLD ALPINE COUNNY

Although Nothing Booming the Prospects are Excellent

Grant Merrill autoed down from his home at Woodfords last evening having had business which called him to this city. In speaking of the conditions in Alpine Mr. Merrill said that although there is nothing of great importance going on still the prospects for better times there are very good. In a mining way there is considerable prospecting and considerable development work going on.

Representatives of the new smelter company in Mason Valley have taken a bond on the Hercules mine at Loope and are now on the ground taking samples of the ore and looking into other matters and after their investigations if they think the property warrants they will assume control and do a vast amount of work. This property shows good prospects and has been worked to advantage but seems to have been under a sort of unlucky spell as heretofore about the time everything was ready for active and profitable work something would happen, such as power dams washing out, etc.

The people of Alpine are now in hopes that the new company will take hold of the property and place it on a working basis once more.

A party of people representing capitalists have been at the new gold strike near Burnside, taking samples, making assays and otherwise looking into the merits of the property with a view of purchasing. The report has not yet been completed and it is not known what the outcome will be, but it is declared that this property is one of great promise in a mining way.

The new California state highway was declared open Wednesday evening from the Pickett place in Hope Valley to connections with the Placerville road in Lake Valley. This road is now in fine shape and gives a good road to Lake Tahoe through Hope Valley.

The state crew of men who have been working on this road all summer have completed their work in that section for the summer.

Mr. Merrill remained in this city today and will return home in the morning. While Alpine is not booming by any manner of means still the past season has been a very good one and the future outlook is more encouraging than it has been for several years past.

Strike Outlook is Threatening

Although there is practically nothing new of any great importance in the strike situation, still it begins to look as if the work of the strikers among the strikebreakers was beginning to have some effect all along the line of trouble. The railroads have declared that the strike was practically broken but from events of the last couple of days it begins to look as if they were much mistaken.

Twelve strikebreakers who had been imported from Chicago yesterday joined the strikers. They demanded their pay from the company but it was said this was refused as they had not lived up to their signed contracts. They declare they will at once institute suit for the collection of their wages. This is the situation at Sparks.

Some little trouble was experienced at Ogden, Utah, yesterday caused by one of the strikers gaining admittance to the stockade in which the strikebreakers are enclosed and distributing union literature. What looked like a riot for a time was soon settled and everything is again quiet.

Down in Mississippi, about the only district where serious trouble has occurred, there is a spirit of unrest, and last night a party of strikers were fired on by the National Guard. No one was injured. At San Francisco, Sacramento and all along the coast all is quiet and both sides are claiming that they are in line for victory. Instead of the strike being broken it is more than likely that it has as yet hardly begun.

SAEVD HIS MOTHER'S LIFE

"Four doctors had given me up," writes Mrs. Laura Gaines, of Avoca, La., "and my children and all my friends were looking for me to die, when my son insisted that I use Electric Bitters. Vaudeville at the Park is a Great Hit

Standing Room Only

"A Fine Show," was the unanimous verdict that was given the Park Theatre program last night. A sister team proved one of the best seen here and the ovation they received proved how well the patrons enjoyed their act.

Much praise must be given to their singing and dancing. They work very harmoniously together. They continue their act very nicely, every change seemed better than the one before. Hall and Wright are certainly exceptions.

The show is one that all should see for it possesses that degree of cleverness known as class.

A fine set of films will also be shown.
